Your complaint will usually be handled by one of our highly experienced managers in the first instance and we will aim to resolve the complaint within three working days. However, if the manager is not able to resolve your complaint, we will escalate the matter to our Complaints Team who will formally acknowledge your complaint upon receipt and will confirm the contact details of the person investigating it.

If we are still investigating your complaint after four weeks, we will explain to you the reasons why and indicate when you can expect a full and final response.

We should have finalised our investigation and issued our final response within a maximum of eight weeks. When we have completed our investigation, we will send you a final response. This response will detail the investigation and our findings. It will also confirm our conclusions and whether the complaint has been upheld, partially upheld, or not upheld. The response will also explain any action being taken, or that has been taken, to correct the situation that led you to complain.
